

ATTABOY GAMES

ATTABOY is the trade name of two games based on the fundamental facts of Arithmetic, and dedicated to the HAPPINESS of boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 13. Both games are full of play, and are not "too educational" for the children to oppose them. ATTABOY Add-Subtract Puzzle GAME contains difficult facts of addition and subtraction, but not in reverse order, and the ATTABOY Multiply-Divide Puzzle GAME, likewise, contains difficult facts of multiplication and division necessary for a clear foundation of elementary Arithmetic. The easy combinations were omitted because the difficult facts become so easy for the children to learn, since ONLY THE CORRECT ANSWERS WILL FIT IN AND THE CHILDREN CAN MAKE NO MISTAKE AS THEY PLAY. In this complex age of science and mathematics, ATTABOY is one of the finest and newest contributions to the field of playthings and toys. For home and school learning arithmetic is truly FUN with ATTABOY.

RULES FOR PLAYING ATTABOY

- (1) Push out all the pieces, and one player says "begin" when all the colored pieces have been shuffled together.
- (2) As each player chooses a piece and places in the answer, he says the problem and the answer, such as 6 times 7 is 42, or 8 plus 7 is 15, or 17 subtract 8 leaves 9, or 64 divided by 8 is 8, and so on until all the pieces are in.
- (3) When a player has filled in the board, he or she says "ATTABOY", and the first to finish receives for his or her score the number of pieces the loser has not finished.
- (4) The boards are exchanged, the pieces shuffled, and the players start again.
- (5) If it is so desired, the Subtract-Add Game may be combined with the Multiply-Divide Game, and four players may take part following rules as used in a game with two players. The game may be played over and over as long as the players wish. ATTABOY Parties may prove great pleasure with even the parents taking part in the games.
- (6) As a game for only one player, the child may race against time to complete the boards, but must also follow the rules as is possible.
