

GOOFY BALL AND GOOFY 8-BALL.

BOUNCE IT—BUT, CAN YOU CATCH IT?

For indoor or outdoor play—one or more players.

Bounce and try to catch this innocent looking rubber ball and you will find it the craziest ball ever made.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PLAY

As a work-out. Bounce and catch the ball ten times in succession without moving the feet. Two people may hold a contest—each one bouncing a ball.

The GOOFY Ball Game: For two players using two balls,—each player bouncing his ball to his opponent at the same time. The ball must be caught on the first bounce to score. This may also be played using one ball, if a slower game is desired.

For a number of players. Make a circle two feet in diameter. The players stand four or five feet away from the center. The first player hits the circle with the GOOFY BALL and one of the players catches it, returning the ball into play as before. If the ball is missed the thrower scores, otherwise the player catching the ball scores. The one scoring 10 points first wins. If thrower misses circle all players score.

Form a line of players at one end of the room or playground. The leader stands 10 feet away and bounces the ball to the first player who tries to catch it and bounces it back to the leader. If the first player misses, but another catches it, the score goes to the catcher, if no player must step out of line. If the leader fails to catch the ball the player bouncing it takes his place.

GOOFY Tennis. Place a piece of string about two feet from the ground, serve the ball into the opposite court to be returned by the opponent. After practice it will be possible to strike the ball with the open hand or a ping pong bat as a variation from catching.

Throw the GOOFY ball against the wall, allowing it to bounce on the ground before catching it.

There are many other intriguing ways to play the GOOFY BALL.

FREDERICK H. BEACH, 200 FIFTH AVE., NEW YORK

