

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE GAME
OF THE
UNITED STATES AND TERRITORIES,
PUBLISHED BY
J. W. HOSFORD & COMPANY.

This game is complete in four separate Packs; each Pack has ten suits, and each suit has five cards, which when obtained by any player compose a trick. Deal the whole pack, one at a time, the left hand player to commence by calling upon ANY ONE for some card represented in their own hand. The card called for must be headed with the name demanded; if the card is won, the holder will respond by saying, "I have," and pass it over; if it is a failure, they will respond, "I have not." The winning party continue to call so long as they win, then the call goes to the next (on the left), and so on. The one getting the most tricks wins the game, and this compels the rest of the players to pay him or her a forfeit, he keeping them until the NEXT ONE of the company shall exceed in the number of games won; ten games shall constitute a victory for each State, and the one winning the largest number of States shall be chosen President, and shall hold the forfeits and decide penalty for each.

This game can be played by any number of persons, but best by 4 to 8.
