CONVERSATION CARDS

Any number of people sitting around a table can play at a time.

Cut all the cards apart, the questions are all one color, the answers another, place them on the table face down.

The first player must pick up a Question Card, may look at its contents, and then address any one in the party and read it aloud, whereupon the one addressed must pick up an Answer Card and read aloud its contents; then the turn passes to the one who read the answer to take up a question card, and so on.
