TAMBLYN NOVELTY CO.

265 6TH AVENUE NEW YORK.

Consists of several series of pictures, each picture being a high class work of art. There are:

Dutch Scenes	Marine Scenes
Animals Intelligence	Hunting "
Comic Pictures	Pictures Proverbs
Life Studies	Landscapes

The object is to put the pieces together to form the picture.

Rules 1. When played by two or more players the pieces must be equally divided among the players.

2. The starter places a piece in the center of the table or in the cover of the box. The player to the right of the starter places any piece he chooses next to it, if the piece matches any where he scores 5 points and plays again and continues playing and scoring 5 points as long as he can match a piece.

3. A piece once laid upon the table cannot match it, he must leave it upon the table.

4. Each player when not actually playing, is entitled to match his piece on the table in front of him, trying to form a piece of the picture, then, when, his turn to play comes if he can place this piece thus formed in its proper place in the picture, he scores 5 points for each piece placed upon the table.

5. If any player after matching his piece, can use the piece or pieces left on the table by the other players, he can use them and scores 5 points for each piece he matches.

6. If a player finds that one of the other players has misplaced a piece everybody scores 10 points, except the player who placed it, he loses 10 points.

7. When a player has played all his pieces, he can draw one piece from each of the other players unless it is their last piece. He cannot take the last piece from any player.

The highest score wins.

We do not claim that our puzzles are easy, but we do claim that they are the most beautiful, most complicated and cheapest on the market.

As a game the are unequalled, for the lone person who revels in solitude or that joyous soul who laugh must mingle with companions.
