DOO DAD CIRCUS
 (Use Only)

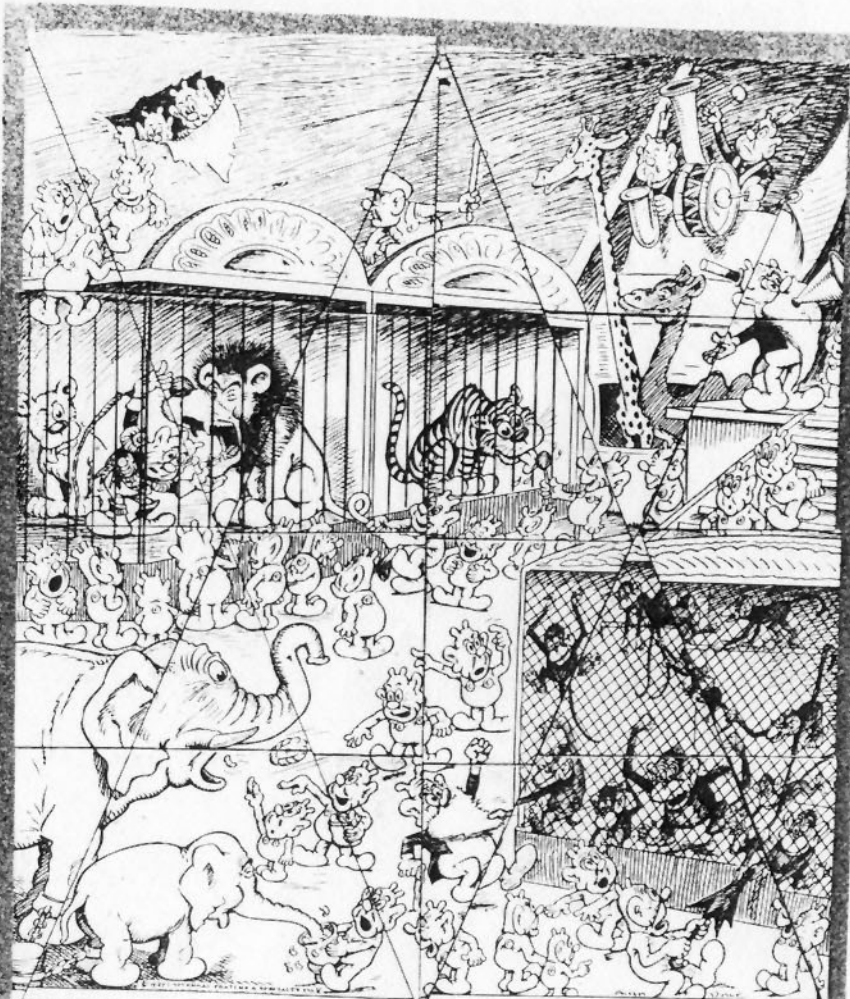

Doctor Sawbones led the circus parade through the streets of Danville and out to the fair grounds. To keep the little Doo Dads interested while the big tents were put up and the animal cages placed, he started the Happy Land attractions. Begin just where you did before. The little Doo Dad with the bean shooter belongs at the left hand side at the top of this little story—find him. He is aiming at something. Yes, sir, at Flannelfeet, the Cop, who is in a Little scooter-boat with four little Doo Dads. Now fill in the pieces across the bottom and you will find Old Doc Sawbones taking one of his lady friends out for a ride in his gondola. My, oh my! It looks as if there would be an upset. Now fill in the rest of the pieces and just see what a jolly time the Doo Dads are having before the circus begins, then turn the pieces over and see what the Doo Dads find when they first enter the big tent.

GAME PART IV

Directly above there should be a big elephant and a little elephant. They are fastened to a stake with chains. Find the stake and the legs of the elephants and put those pieces right in the corner. Then find the head of the little elephant and see what he is doing. You can tell the pieces that come next, for they have a little blue line running across the bottom and the ones that go directly above, for they have a line across the side. It's sure enough it is—Monkeys—in a cage. This must be it—is the animal tent and the Happy Land and the Animal Tent and the side show and the "dings" in the "Ring" under the "Big Top."

Now complete the picture and see what a brave little Doo Dad Percy Haw Haw is—and how proud Old Doctor Sawbones looks as he shouts through his megaphone. We are certainly getting very close to the real circus. There is the side show and then the wonderful time under the big top itself. You can get these other two parts, just as this one was secured, and with your friends you can play the Doo Dad Circus game and show the amusement and the big parade—and the Happy Land and the Animal Tent and the side show and the "dings" in the "Ring" under the "Big Top."
